En Crôte in Oklahoma City is a mecca for the lactose loving, whether they seek a luxurious lunch or a wedge of fine cheese.

With navy walls, gilded mirrors, and vases overflowing with fresh herbs on each marble table, the interior at EN CROÛTE bar, restaurant, and fromagerie is as comfortable as it is stylish. But it's the elegant menu that makes breakfast, lunch, or dinner here a pleasure. Chantilly Dutch baby pancakes, a rotating Monger's Choice cheese plate, and pan-roasted rainbow trout are just a few of the eatery's many options. For turophiles wishing to indulge elsewhere, the Nichols Hills shop sells snack platters as well as sandwiches and dozens of cheeses, meats, olives, and other gourmet treats. En Crôte is open Tuesday through Saturday, 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. 6460 Avondale Drive in Oklahoma City, (405) 607-6100 or encrouteokc.com.

Ree Drummond has created a culinary and shopping destination in Pawhuska with The Pioneer Woman Mercantile.

Since fall 2016, more than 900,000 visitors have traveled to The Pioneer Woman Mercantile in Pawhuska. The reason so many people have made the pilgrimage to this small northeastern Oklahoma town is twofold. The deli serves a cross-section of Ree Drummond's best recipes—crunchy croissant French toast, white spinach lasagna, and prune cake, just to name a few. And on the other side of the mercantile are 7,400 square feet of clothing, candles, toys, cookbooks, and a mind-boggling number of kitchen and table accessories. 532 Kihekah Avenue in Pawhuska, themercantile.com.
