

THE OKLAHOMA

Gift Guide

SHOW UP SANTA AND SUPPORT LOCAL BUSINESSES WITHOUT EVER LEAVING THE HOUSE WITH THIS ONLINE GIFT GUIDE.

ONLINE!

BY KARLIE YBARRA | PHOTOGRAPHY BY LORI DUCKWORTH

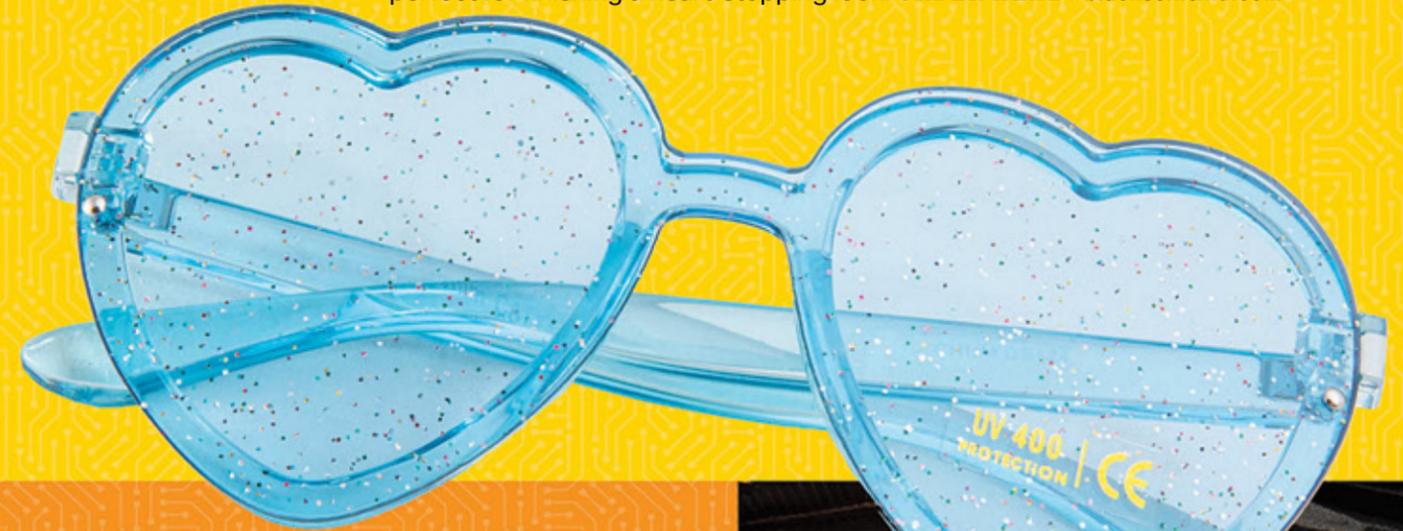

MoonHawk ART

John and MaryBeth Timothy, Muscogee (Creek) and Cherokee artists, respectively, craft wearable art that celebrates their heritage, like these Indian paintbrush, scissor-tailed flycatcher, and spider motif cuff bracelets.

ORDER HERE > moonhawkart.com

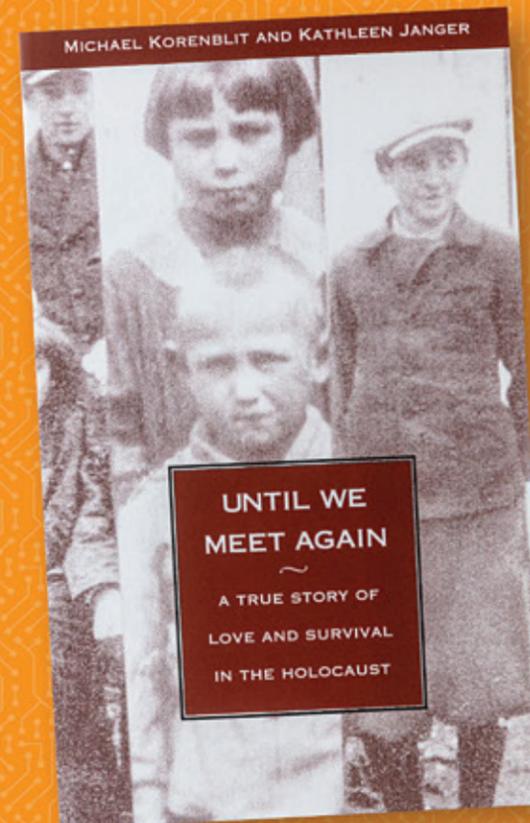

The Black Scintilla

Women's clothing and accessories, baby gifts, funky jewelry: Black Scintilla in Midtown Oklahoma City has a little bit of everything. Sparkly shades like these are especially perfect for finishing a heart-stopping look. ORDER HERE > blackscintilla.com

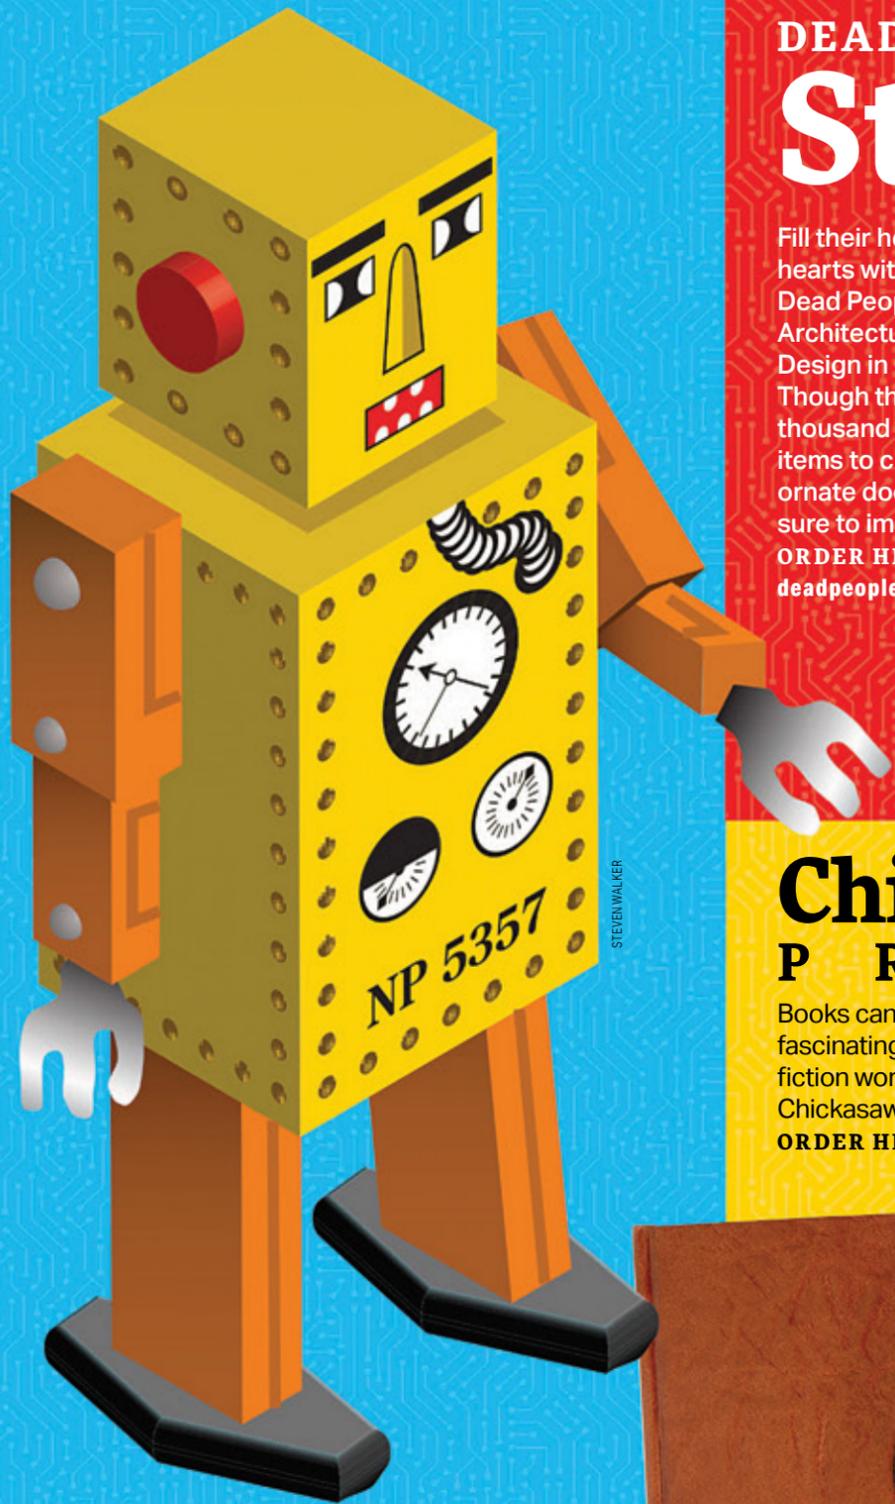

BRACE BOOKS & MORE

You can never have enough books! Brace Books in Ponca City carries titles—many by Okie authors—for all ages, including Until We Meet Again by Michael Korenblit and Kathleen Janger. ORDER HERE > bracebooks.indielite.org

Bedré Fine CHOCOLATE

An overflowing gift basket from Chickasaw-owned Bedré chocolates in Davis will leave sugar seekers feeling sticky and satisfied—or divide the spoils and stuff all your stockings with chocolatey goodness. ORDER HERE > bedrechocolates.com

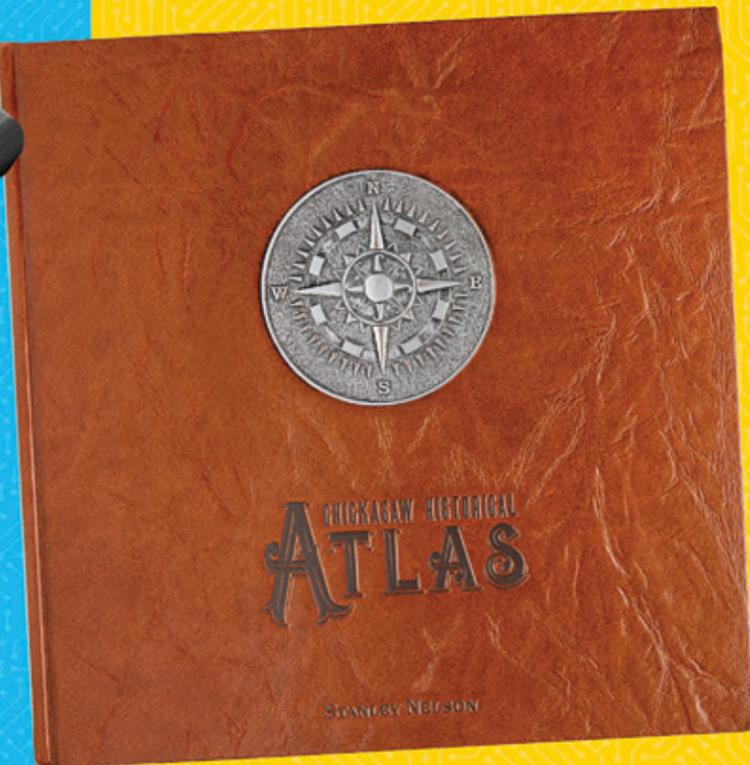

DEAD PEOPLE'S Stuff

Fill their homes and hearts with decor from Dead People's Stuff Architectural Antiques & Design in Oklahoma City. Though the store has forty thousand square feet of items to choose from, an ornate door knocker is sure to impress. ORDER HERE > deadpeoplesstuffok.com

Chickasaw P R E S S

Books can unlock the secrets of fascinating cultures. Fiction and non-fiction works, including this atlas from the Chickasaw Press in Ada, are no exception. ORDER HERE > chickasawpress.com

Buck Atom's

While cruising Route 66, it's well worth a stop at Buck Atom's Cosmic Curios in Tulsa. At this eclectic shop, you can get anything from Christmas ornaments and handmade soap to shirts and toy robots for the cool cats in your life. ORDER HERE > buckatomson66.com

CHISHOLM TRAIL Heritage Center

For the little cowgirls and boys in your posse, a light-up hat, sheriff's badge, and plush Western critter from the Chisholm Trail Heritage Center in Duncan will result in plenty of "yippee-ki-yays" on Christmas morning. ORDER HERE > onthechisholmtrail.com

MWB Studios

Though friends and family might tick you off at times, show them how much you care with a fabulous Art Deco clock from MWB Studios, a Tulsa shop specializing in ornate wood decor. ORDER HERE > mwbstudios.com

DNA Galleries

If you're not genetically predisposed to good gifting, let the staff at DNA Galleries in Oklahoma City's Plaza District do the work for you. Their carefully curated selection of stickers is an inexpensive way to bolster any art collection. ORDER HERE > dnagalleries.com

Dulce de Donké

Donkeys aren't just for manger scenes this holiday. Dulce de Donké, a small donkey dairy in Luther, crafts soap and other skin care products using milk from their herd of American mammoth donkeys. DDD's gentle, nourishing ingredients are especially great for people with sensitive skin—or anyone who just enjoys smelling divine.

ORDER HERE > dulcededonke.com

Graze Craze

If you're gifting a large group, Graze Craze's artfully curated picnic boxes come in two sizes and include a delicious selection of fruit, meat, cheese, and plenty more.

ORDER HERE > grazecraze.com

Hochatime

Forget the present: There's no time like Hochatime. Gift a little bit of the laid-back lake life with a rainbow Silipint cup from Hochatown's coolest souvenir shop.

ORDER HERE > hochatime.com

HOBOKEN Coffee Roasters

Most of us function best when heavily caffeinated, so coffee always makes a great gift. Hoboken—a locally owned café and roastery in Guthrie—sells some of the most magical beans in Oklahoma.

ORDER HERE > hoboken.coffee

LITERATI PRESS Comics and Novels

Be someone's superhero by sharing an epic literary adventure from Oklahoma City-based Literati Press. Their Paseo shop sells a powerful lineup of local titles like Glamorella's Daughter by Charles J. Martin and Jerry Bennett, which is sure to help little imaginations take flight.

ORDER HERE > literatipressok.com

The Felt Bird

For a humorous, surprising, or Enid-celebrating gift, The Felt Bird has a thousand square feet of awe-inspiring goods, including stylish swag to show off your hometown pride.

ORDER HERE > thefeltbird.com

No Man's Land Beef Jerky

Stick it to the ones you love with a meaty selection of No Man's Land Beef Jerky. The Boise City company uses 100 percent beef that is slow-dried for a delicious dose of protein. ORDER HERE > nmlbeefjerky.com

SCISSORTAIL Meadows

From zhooshing up baked goods to elevating kitchen decor, engraved rolling pins from the Scissortail Meadows market in Stillwater are ideal for any epicurean. ORDER HERE > etsy.com/shop/scissortailmeadows

Tatarazzi

Take the pain out of gift giving and receiving with a tantalizing temporary tattoo from Norman-based Tatarazzi. ORDER HERE > etsy.com/shop/tatarazzi

Flowers by Ramon

If your gifting goal is to rekindle the romance, a Christmas floral arrangement from Ramon's in Lawton should be on your list. But make sure to have the mistletoe ready. ORDER HERE > flowersbyramon.com

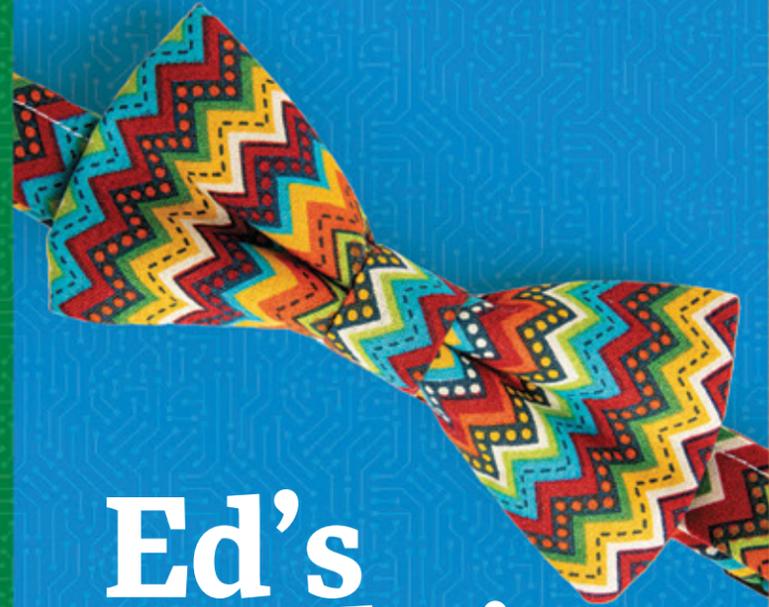

Philbrook

The Philbrook Museum of Art's Oklahoma Artist Marketplace gives collectors a chance to support local creators—like Robert Peterson, who painted Golden Frida—by patronizing them directly.
ORDER HERE > shop.philbrook.org

ROBERT PETERSON

Ed's Neckties

Business casual doesn't have to be boring. Ed Ballesteros' handmade, stylish neck and bow ties are sure to turn heads at the watercooler.
ORDER HERE > etsy.com/shop/edsneckties

KIDOODLES Toy Zone

Though Kidoodles toy store in Norman has a huge selection, a tea set will earn two pinkies up from any fancy child on Christmas morning.
ORDER HERE > kidoodletoyzone.com

Black Moth

For the gothically inclined, Black Moth in Tulsa carries a kooky array, including skulls, minerals, taxidermied specimens, and these lovely paper insects.
ORDER HERE > shopblackmoth.com

Betsy King Shoes

Betsy King Shoes in Oklahoma City's Paseo District carries towering heels, comfortable flats, and everything in between. This metallic boot and clutch duo will elevate any outfit to a fashion moment.
ORDER HERE > betsykingshoes.com

Lovera's

Fresh bottled sauces and pickled produce from Lovera's, Oklahoma's favorite Krebs-based Italian grocer, are perfect for anyone missing the fresh flavors of summer.
ORDER HERE > loverasmarket.com